

‘Feeling Good, Feeling Safe’:

A whole school approach to keeping children safe

‘Feeling Good, Feeling Safe’ is a whole school approach to preventing violence and abuse which aims to support pupils from Reception to Year 6 to learn the skills to keep themselves feeling safe and to ensure they can get help if they need it.

It is based on Protective Behaviours, an evidence based programme and its two core themes:

“We all have the right to feel safe all the time”

“We can talk with someone about anything, even if it feels awful or small”

The resource when delivered will help schools to demonstrate how they meet the Ofsted requirements around Keeping Children Safe. This pack is not just focussed on those children who have already experienced abuse, but is for all children, as it teaches skills for life which can be used in everyday safety situations, as well as to address more serious problems. The Protective Behaviours lessons are intended to be delivered as part of a school’s planned programme of PSHE education.

Structure of the Feeling Good, Feeling Safe pack:

1. Lesson plans for each year group from Reception to year 6:
2. Ideas for reinforcing the principles and language of Protective Behaviours across the whole school setting
3. involving parents and carers in reinforcing safety messages for children

The Four Lesson Plans for each year group

1. Feelings and Feeling Safe
2. Feeling Unsafe and Early Warning Signs
3. Body Awareness and Secrets
4. Support Networks and Telling

*“The Protective Behaviour’s approach been extremely beneficial to our school. The training and planning booklets have enabled us to raise confidence within our staff team in talking to children about protecting themselves and recognising and understanding their feelings.”
(Head teacher)*

The lessons aim in an age appropriate way to:

- ✓ inform children of their right to feel safe
- ✓ develop children’s, resilience, well-being and self-esteem
- ✓ build skills and tools for feeling and keeping safe
- ✓ develop an awareness of our bodies and how they can help us to stay safe
- ✓ learn the correct anatomical names for all of the parts of our bodies
- ✓ explore how our choices and behaviour can affect the feelings of others
- ✓ increase children’s ability to assess risk, problem solve and plan for safety
- ✓ encourage children to seek support when needed and know who they can ask for help

Training and support for the Programme:

Training is provided prior to programme implementation to enable schools to effectively deliver the “Feeling Good, Feeling Safe” teaching resource. The pack and training is provided by Safety Net, a children’s charity with 20 years’ experience of delivering Protective Behaviours training to children and adults.

Protective Behaviours training will enable schools to:-

- Promote a culture of safety by applying the principles, language and framework of Protective Behaviours across all aspects of the school environment (Strengthening safeguarding practice, Ofsted School Inspection Handbook, 2014).
- Ensure that all school staff are familiar with the Protective Behaviours language and strategies, and that they can use, model and apply them to deal with situations that arise across the school community.
- Enhance the teaching input to children through developing a common language and set of tools that everyone understands and which can underpin the ethos and values of the school.
- Explore how school values, policies, rules and practice complement, reference and reinforce the programme.
- Help staff to feel safer and more confident in teaching the materials.
- Involve parents and carers in the programme, and support them in reinforcing the ideas at home.
